

Country Bo gives and receives

BROOKE MELVILLE/LOCAL

Ben "Country Bo" Dunn (right) and his nephew Richard traveled from school to school last week picking up donated canned goods and other food items collected by local students for the Meals on Grills Food Pantry, which just opened this month off Highway 22 in Eminence. "Country Bo" and his wife Brigitte hope to stock the food pantry's shelves with nonperishable food items, toiletries and other household necessities to serve those in the community who are in need. The items he and his nephew picked up last week formed several pickup truck loads, with the above load coming from just two of the local schools. "Country Bo" is excited with the positive feedback and community donations the food pantry has already received. If you would like to contribute or if you have questions about the program, contact the Dunns at (502)845-1431.
